

In this task, I focused on designing the Customer flow for the Hotel Booking System, specifically the Room Selection and Booking Confirmation screens. My goal was to create a user-friendly, modern experience that allows customers to browse and book rooms effortlessly.

The Room Selection screen features visually engaging room cards with essential details like images, pricing, amenities, and availability status. I also integrated optional add-ons such as food and local experiences, allowing users to customize their stay conveniently. Clear CTAs and a responsive layout ensure a smooth selection process across devices.

The Booking Confirmation screen presents a clean summary of the user's choices, including room type, stay dates, guest details, and add-ons. I prioritized clarity and visual hierarchy, making it easy for users to review and confirm their booking with confidence.

Colours

I selected a calm and modern color palette to support clarity and user trust. The primary color is a soft blue (#1E3A8A), representing reliability and calmness—ideal for a booking interface. It is used for key actions like "Book Now" buttons and highlights.

Room Booking Screen

- Design focuses on a simple and intuitive layout to help users browse and book rooms with ease.
- Each room card includes an image, name, brief description, price, and an "Add to Booking" button.
- The design ensures clear visual hierarchy, minimal steps, and responsive behavior across devices.

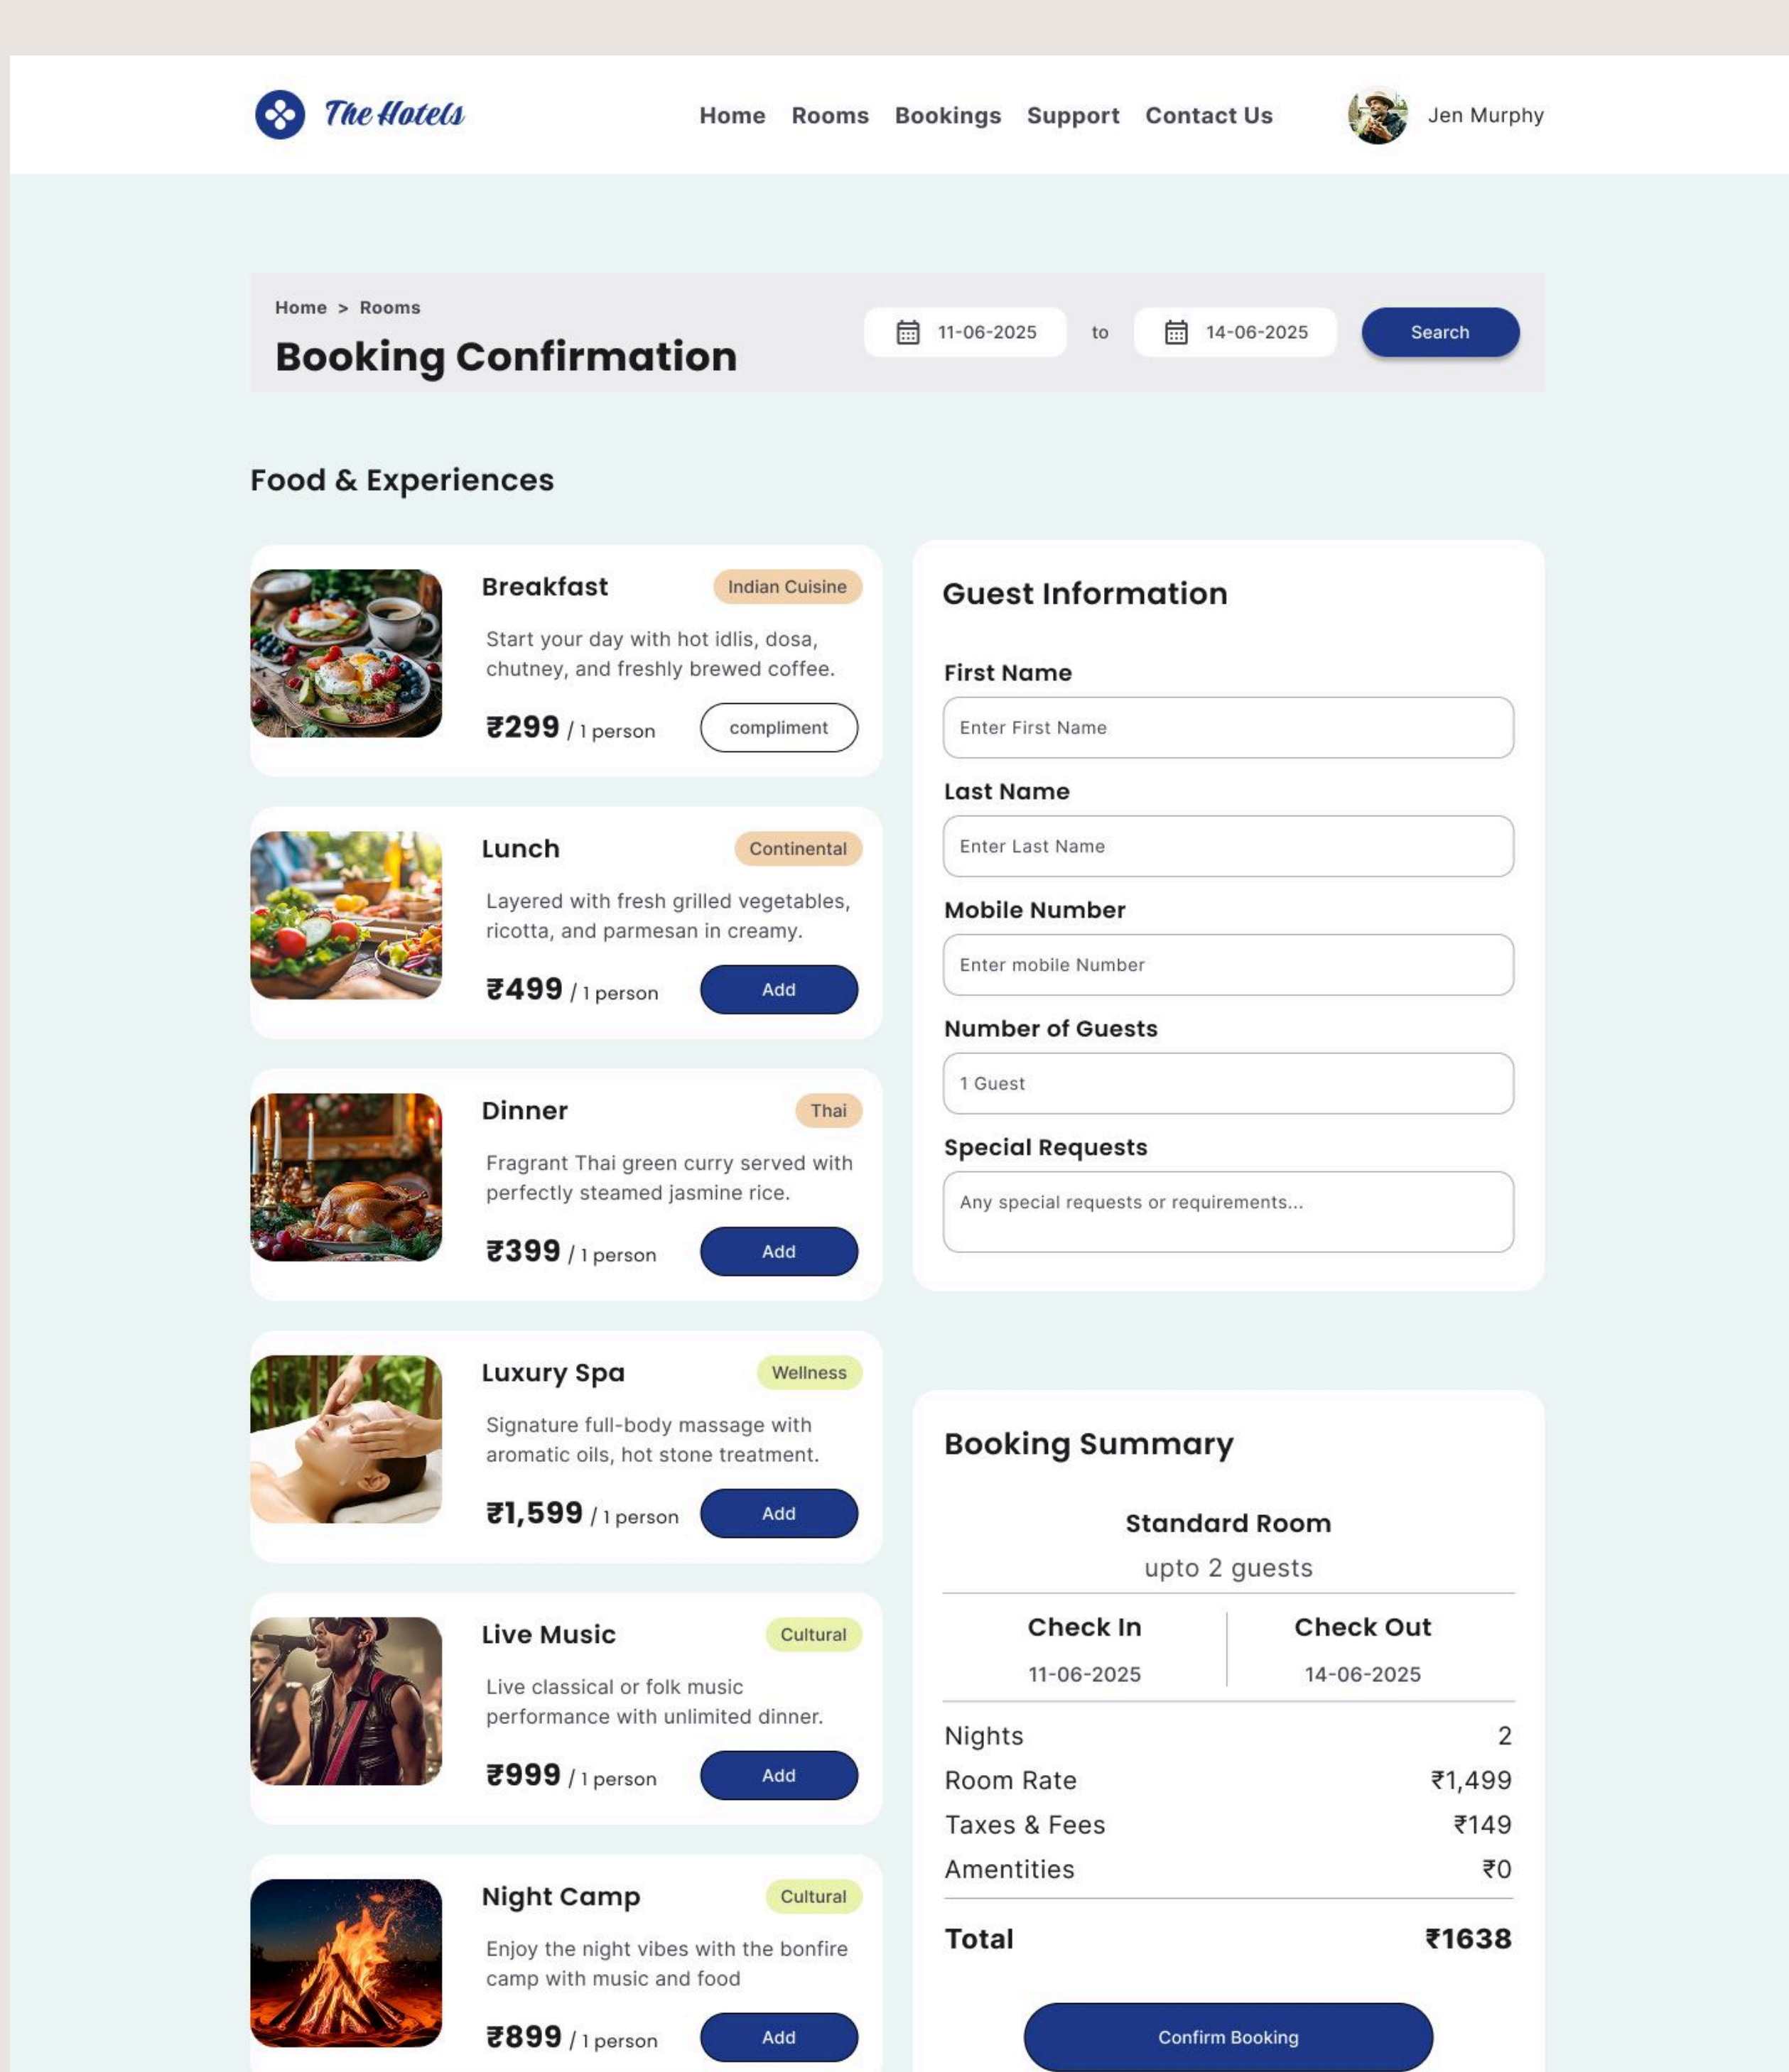

Booking Confirmation Screen

- Two-column layout for clarity and ease of use. The left section features optional add-ons like food and local experiences, allowing users to enhance their stay.
- The right section includes the booking form with room details, guest info, date selection, and total price summary.

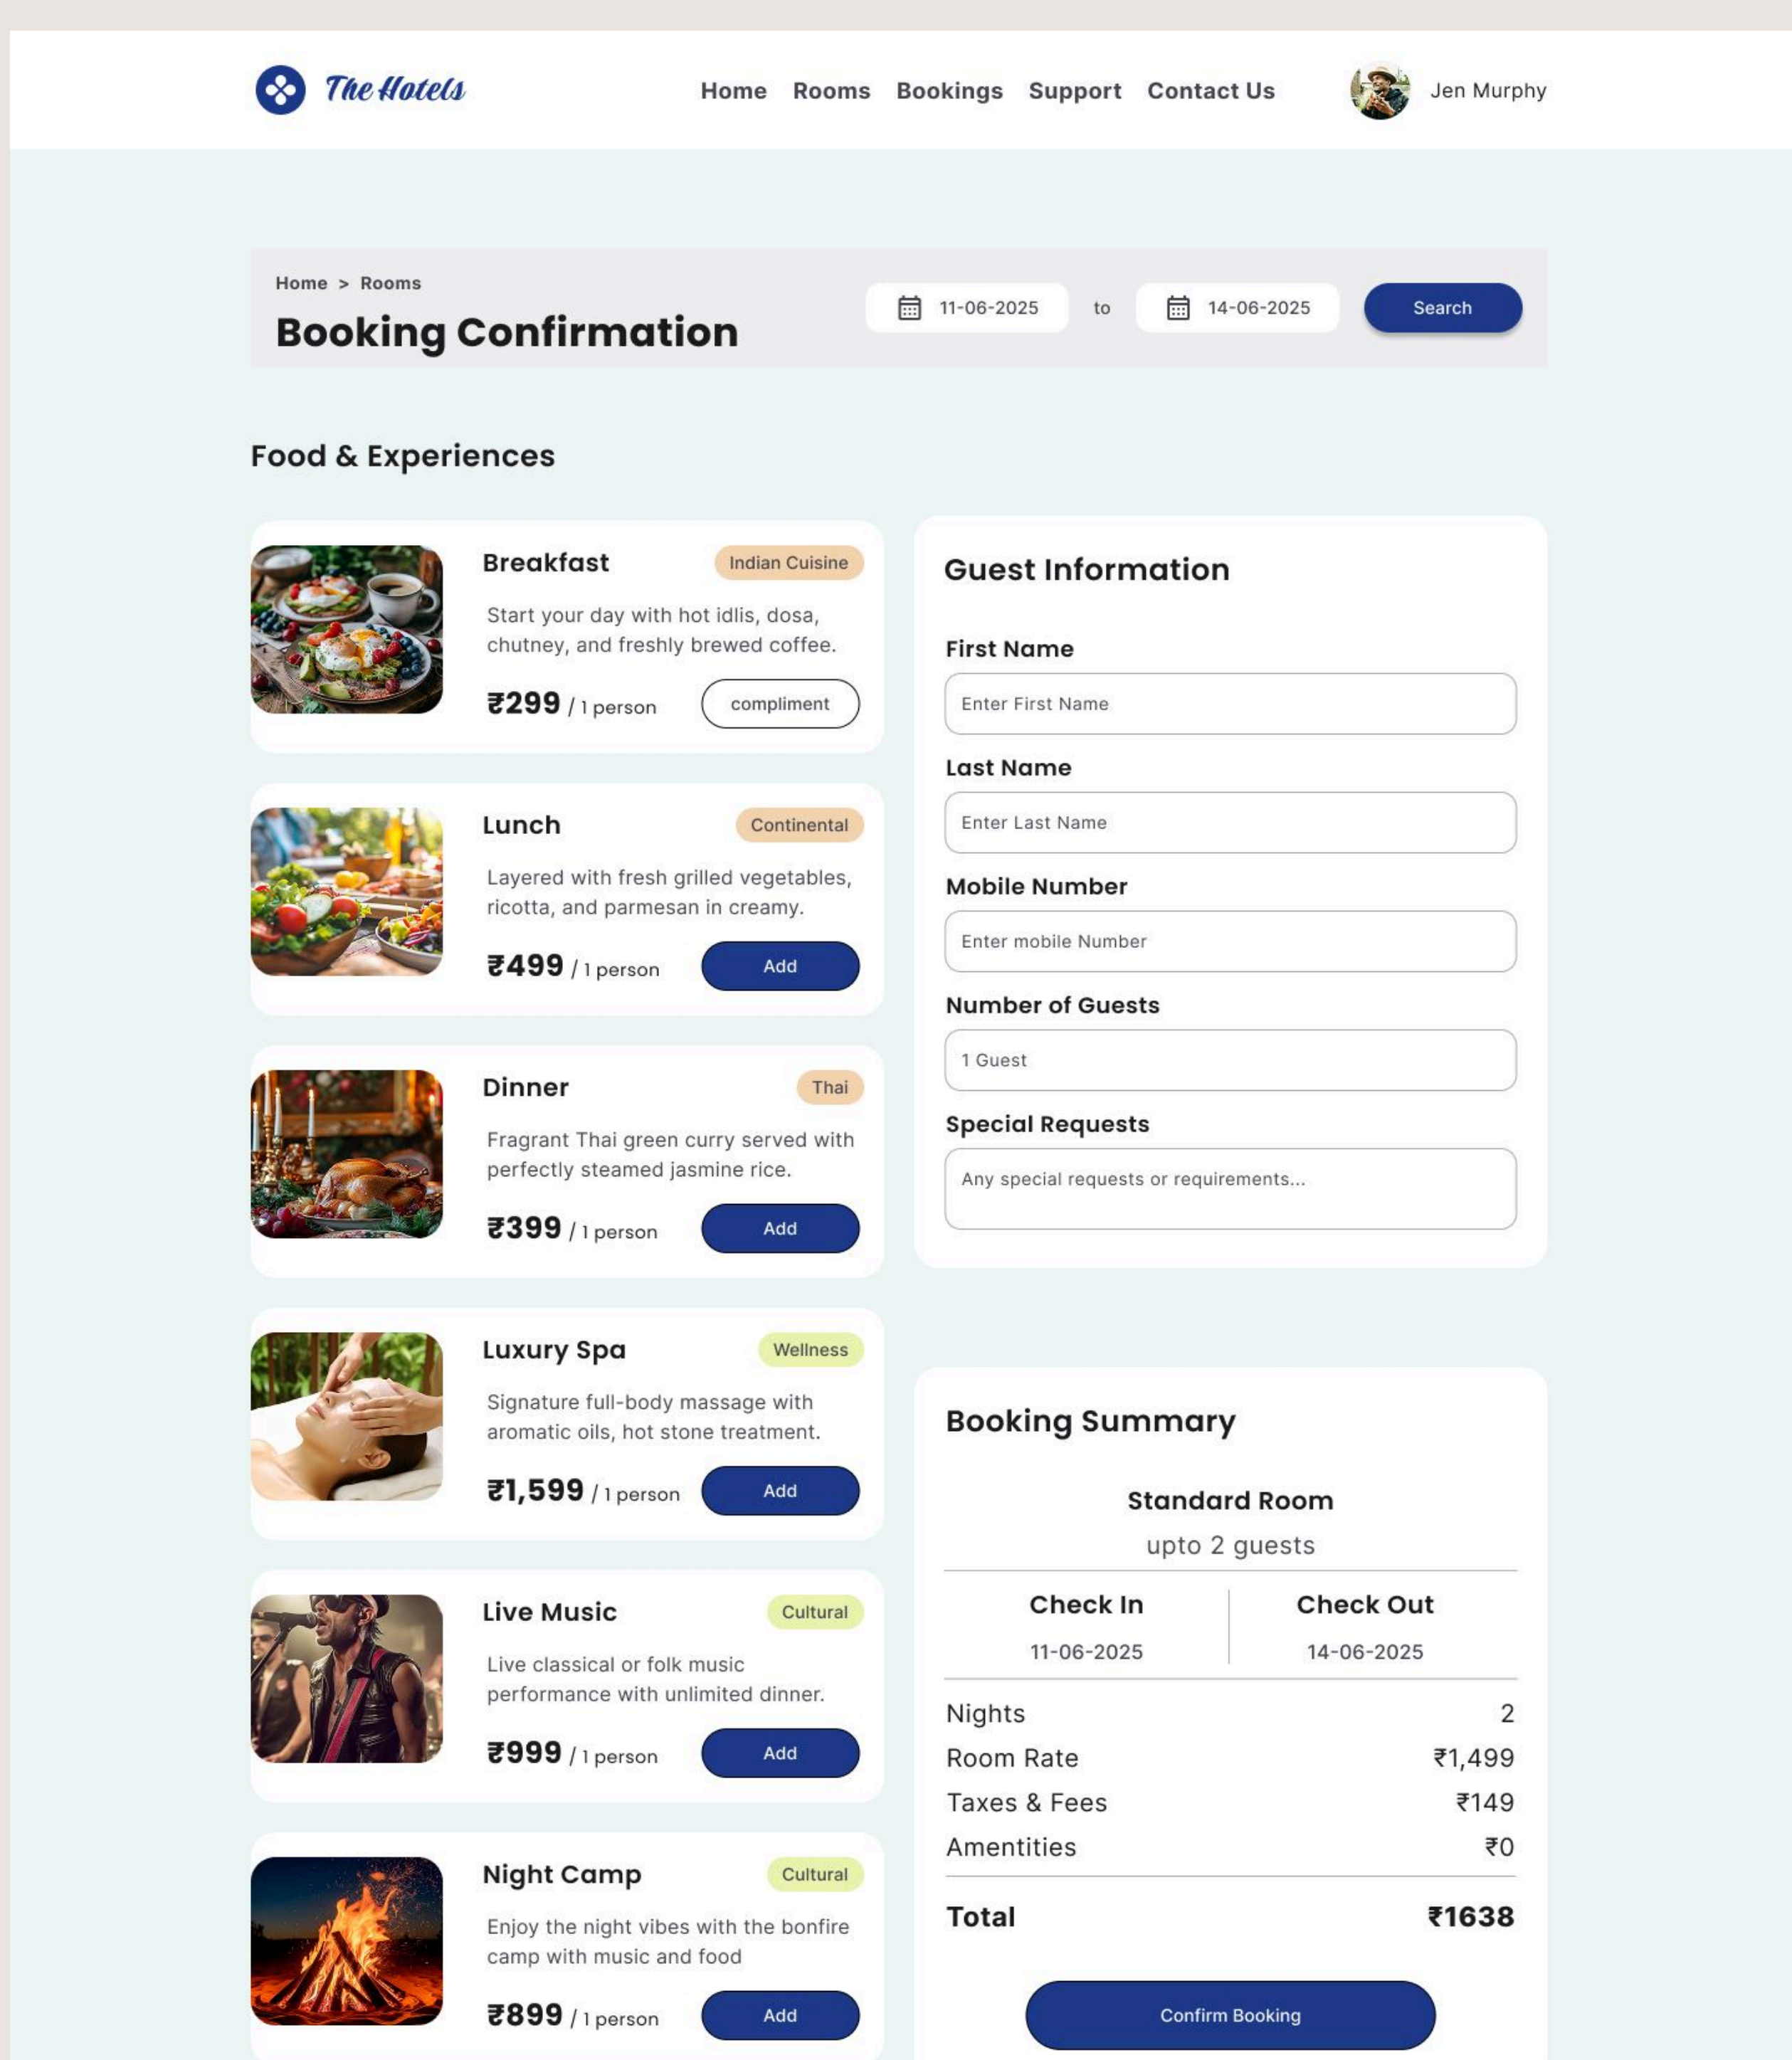

Room Booking Screen

A clean grid of room cards showcasing images, prices, amenities, and availability status. Users can select a room and explore optional add-ons like food and experiences, making the booking more personalized.

Booking Conf Screen

A structured summary of the selected room, stay details, guest info, and added services. Designed with clear hierarchy and a responsive layout, it helps users review and confirm their booking with confidence.
